Member Rudylynn Roberts moved to accept the notice and the amended agenda as duly provided to the membership; this motion was seconded by member Stephen Anthony James and was carried forward with no objection.

7.0 Confirmation of minutes of 2018 AGM

The Secretary indicated that an electronic copy of the minutes had been posted on the website of the National Trust prior to the day of the AGM and paper copies had been made available to members at the registration desk. A few members indicated that they had not received the minutes and the Secretary agreed to read the minutes of the AGM held on November 28, 2018. Life member Jacqueline Telfer then voiced objection to the reading, stating that it was not proper procedure while member Stephen Anthony James moved that the Secretary continue to read them. The matter was put to a vote and 47 members voted in favour of reading of the minutes while 11 members objected. Given the majority decision, the Secretary continued to read, and member Irma Burkett moved to adopt the minutes and this motion was seconded by member Sandra MacMillan Brebrior. The minutes were adopted by the membership with no objection.

Member Jalaladin Khan raised the relocation of the office of the National Trust for discussion and members agreed to deal with matters arising and other matters after the reading of the Auditor's Report and the Annual Report since enquiries could be addressed therein.

8.0 PRESENTATION OF THE AUDITED ACCOUNTS - 2017/2018 FINANCIAL YEAR

The Presiding Member then raised the item of the presentation of the Audited Accounts and welcomed representatives from Aegis & Co., namely, Rameez Shah, Vernetta Guischarde and Marlon Ambrose. Vernetta Guischarde, lead auditor, presented the Auditor's Report for the period ending September 30th, 2018 and the representatives remained available to field questions from the membership.

There were no questions addressed to Aegis & Co. by the membership following the reading of the Audited Accounts.

8.1 Treasurer's report

With leave of the Presiding Officer, the Treasurer then addressed the membership and thanked the representatives of Aegis & Co. for delivering the audited financials and for their attendance at the 2019 AGM. She reported that every effort had been made to present fair and reasonable accounts in compliance with the International Financial Reporting Standard for Small and Medium-sized Entities (IFRS for SMEs). The Treasurer noted that on assuming duties in November 2016, the 6th Council had inherited less than optimal accounting practices at the Trust and she acknowledged the yeoman service rendered by Kathleen Kanhai-Bhujawan, accountant contracted by the Trust, who was able to advance IFRS compliance, through the introduction of the Quickbooks™ accounting platform at the Trust in addition to aligning the Trust accounts with the accounting requirements of the Ministry of Planning and Development (MPD, the client Ministry). The Treasurer indicated that notwithstanding the foregoing, the 6th Council was still grappling with legacy accounting issues inherited in 2016.

The Treasurer highlighted the following in her report:

- Income statement (page 5 of the Financial Statement) – the total State subvention was reduced to $ 2.1 million while the Trust had received an allocation of $2.3 million in the previous year and this reduction had a significant impact on its ability to undertake new activities during the period;
- The Trust had boosted its revenue generated from tours and lectures in 2018 ($456,791) compared to $29,329 recorded in 2017 and she noted this encouraging trend in 2019;
- Membership dues increased by $2,000 to a total of $36,000;
- Trust Shop - income from Shop sales fell from $85,000 to $65,000 and she proposed that the Trust Shop be reinvigorated by moving away from consignment arrangements and increasing publicity for the items sold at the Shop;
- Trust Generated Income (other) - She clarified that this item referred to direct deposits with no paper trail ( e.g. membership subscriptions paid via direct deposit);
- Book Publication - publications such as 'Built Heritage' were likely to be removed from the income statement to be recorded subsequently under Trust Shop Income;
- Total expenditure was recorded at $2.8 million with $1.4 million allocated to salaries and capacity building such as attendance at the 3rd Annual Caribbean Heritage Conference, work/study training (NEXUS 1492) in the Dominican Republic for a Heritage Preservation and Research Officer);
- A total of $441,891 was allocated to other contracted services for payments to service providers and as honoraria to lecturers to support the increasing number of tours and lectures;
- A total of $344,200 was disbursed to appointed Council members and there was no change to the rates of remuneration over the previous period;
- Assets - Plant and Equipment: no furniture or computer equipment was purchased during the reporting period and $111,000 represented 'depreciation' whereby existing computers had been fully depreciated over the last two years;
- Current accounts- 'Account Receivable' represents a Book Value Receivable where the Trust 'loaned'/ advanced money to a development project on Nelson Island to be repaid by the Ministry. It was made clear that the funds had since been received from the Ministry after the close of the fiscal year/accounting period;
- 'Payables and Accruals' referred to audit fees, and payment for use of the NIDCO Water Taxi vessels;
- Deferred Income (Nelson Island) - refers to entries that preceded 2013 which may have been transacted under the now-defunct Ministry of Arts and Multiculturalism. In previous audits, these had been accounted for as a virement (without approval) and as such would have been captured as deferred income and not as an Income Statement item;
- It is anticipated that there would be continued reliance on the General Reserve Fund (as in 2018).

The Treasurer concluded the report with the following:

"We have also relied on the General Reserve Fund to get us through 2018 and in the next fiscal period I would expect it to be all but depleted unless other sources are found. I know the general sentiment is that we are existing in an atmosphere of somewhat diminished expectations, where the private sector often feels frustrated and starved and the Government has been said to be underperforming. Even the IMF says that the global economy is in a 'synchronized slow down'.

But the challenge to us is to defy these poor expectations and to, regardless of what others think, establish the heritage economy as a market reformer- revitalizing the economy.

We all have a role to play in this, and I encourage you, the members here today, to get involved, to volunteer, invest some of your time and energy in the Trust, assist with grant funding or the research of monuments and sites, or volunteer to tour guide, or do your part to increase the membership base of the Trust. Encourage young people in your circles to engage with heritage, with culture and to do so creatively. I look forward to hearing your ideas for the Trust Shop, your thoughts on how we can creatively spread the ideology and the mission of the Trust and most importantly how we can encourage others to invest in the Trust as well."

8.2 Comments on the Audited Accounts:

With leave of the Presiding Member, the Treasurer then asked if members had any questions for the Trust based on the results of the Audited Accounts presented for the financial year ending September 30, 2018. Member Stephen Anthony James stated that in spite of not being able to give a comprehensive review of the accounts, he understood that the Trust accounts as presented revealed a complicated situation and that he was willing to assist given his past experience on a board and stated that every effort should be made to ensure that members were able to access the Auditor's Report. The Treasurer thanked the member for his offer and indicated to the membership that the Auditor's Report 2017/2018 was already available on the website of the National Trust.

Member Denise Scott pointed out that it was almost November 2019 and the reporting period was pertinent to 2017/2018 and she enquired about the accounts for 2019. The Treasurer informed that subsequent to the 2017/2018 period there had been shifts in the general ledger and a stock count was due by November 2019; it was projected that by the end of January 2020, the accounts would be submitted to the auditors for the period ending September 30, 2019. She further explained that the apparent delay in the reporting of the accounts was due to provisions in the National Trust of Trinidad and Tobago Act Chap. 40:53 ('the Act') that required the presentation of the accounts for the previous accounting period at the AGM.

Member Jalaladin Khan thanked the auditors and enquired whether the accounts were provided in a procedurally correct manner. The Treasurer indicated that the final audited accounts were provided to the Trust the week of the AGM and was made available to the membership immediately thereafter on the website of the National Trust prior to the AGM. Member Jalaladin Khan enquired whether there was compliance with s. 20(3) of the Act (submission of audited financials to the Minister for laying in Parliament). The Treasurer confirmed that this was done and indicated that a copy of the audited accounts 2017/2018 would be provided to the Minister immediately after adoption by the membership at the AGM.

Member Jalaladin Khan then raised the matter of economic constraints faced by the Trust and the limited state subvention and referred to s. 5 of the Act (functions of the Trust), and enquired about actions taken by the Council to develop other sources of income (apart from tours), namely, grants.

The Treasurer informed that the Trust had been engaging international institutions for donations and she stated that different donors had different criteria for awarding grants. She informed that the Trust was grappling with this situation since it fell under the remit of a ministry whereas its international counterparts like the UK National Trust had the autonomy to make funding arrangements independent of ministerial control. She also reported that the Trust was in the process of engaging the National Lotteries Control Board (NLCB), but this was still in the early stages. Given the difficulties experienced to date in procuring international funding, she called on members with contacts in such organisations to lend their support.

Member Kumar Mahabir asked who paid the rent for the office space of the Trust at Sackville Street. The Treasurer informed that the client Ministry paid the rent inclusive of utilities, but the Trust was not privy to this lease arrangement.

With no further questions or comments from the membership, the team from Aegis & Co. then withdrew from the meeting with leave of the Presiding Officer.

Adoption of the audited accounts 2017/2018

The Presiding Officer then invited members for a motion to accept the audited accounts for the preceding fiscal year 2017/2018 as laid and adopted by the membership at the 2019 AGM. Member Stephen Anthony James moved to adopt the audited financials and this motion was seconded by member Ryan Mohammed and the report of the audited accounts for 2017/2018 was adopted without objection.

9.0 REAPPOINTMENT OF AUDITORS FOR FISCAL 2018/2019

The Treasurer reported that Aegis & Co., auditor appointed at the 2018 AGM, had done an exceptional job and was supportive and diligent in delivery of auditing services. She informed the membership that Aegis & Co. had quoted the same auditing fees for next period. Noting the above, the Treasurer then recommended that Aegis & Co. be reappointed as auditors for the 2018/2019 financial year.

The Presiding Member then opened the floor and member Stephen Anthony James moved that Aegis & Co. be reappointed as auditors for fiscal 2018/2019 and this motion was seconded by member Rudylynn Roberts and there being no objections, Aegis and Co. was reappointed as the auditor for the fiscal year 2018/2019.

10.0 PRESENTATION OF THE ANNUAL REPORT 2017/2018

The Presiding Officer then invited the Chairman of the National Trust to present the Annual Report 2017/2018. The Chairman then addressed the membership and reported on Trust activities for the period October 1st, 2017 to September 30th, 2018, the stipulated reporting period pursuant to the Act.

The Chairman highlighted the following in the Annual Report 2017/2018:

- Election of five Council members at the AGM in November 2017;
- The Landmarks Subcommittee had evaluated the dossiers available at the Trust and recommended gazetting a notice of intention to list 41 properties of interest;
- Continued relations with the archaeological team from Leiden University (Netherlands) led by Professor Corinne Hofman with a view to undertaking research in Trinidad and Tobago under the 'Nexus 1492' programme as well as the drafting of a Memorandum of Academic Cooperation (eventually signed in 2019);

- Overhauling the accounting procedures at the Trust to ensure IFRS compliance and alignment with the requirements of the client Ministry, contracting of accountant Kathleen Kanhai-Bhujawan and implementation of QuickBooks™ at the Trust;
- Over 37 Trust activities (lectures, internships, camps, and tours) were held during the reporting period throughout Trinidad and Tobago;
- Partnerships with US/ICOMOS including hosting a US intern, attendance at INTO conferences, poster competition;
- Drafting of a MOU for development aid from the Government of India;
- Contracting a Property and Facilities Manager in April 2018 to manage Nelson Island and upgrade building assets in accordance with the PSIP allocation announced in the 2017 budget (these funds were not received on time);
- Challenges included the reduced State subvention which did not allow for the payment of elected members (this matter has since been referred to the Ministry of Finance);
- Despite growing revenue generated from Trust activities, leasing marketable heritage properties to the Trust remained a critical step on the road to self-sustainability;
- Discussions with the client Ministry concerning the relocation of the Trust office from its present location (1st floor, 'Sterling Building', 68-70, Sackville Street, Port of Spain) given there was no elevator access, office hours were subject to the operations of the vehicle dealership on the ground floor that provided the only public access to the Trust; and
- Advocating fiscal and tax incentives for heritage preservation and as such members with expertise in finance were encouraged to participate in this process.

In concluding her report, the Chairman thanked the 6th Council and the staff for their tremendous efforts made despite challenges.

The Presiding Member then opened the floor for any requests for clarification on the Annual Report 2017/2018.

10.1 Comments

Member Jalaladin Khan enquired about human resource and procurement policies at the Trust. The Chairman informed that the Strategic Plan for 2019-2023 (with the updated organisational chart) had been adopted at the last AGM and was finalised in 2019. She also reported that the recently concluded recruitment exercise in September 2019 had paved the way for the development of the fledgling human resource policy at the Trust to be formalised with input from staff; benchmarks had been created. The Tenders Subcommittee had been constituted and operationalised during the reporting period and it adopted the normal State procurement procedures. A draft accounting policy had been developed and the Chairman informed that recruitment depended on budgetary allocations.

Member Jalaladin Khan then raised the issue of penalties for infringement of the Act and referred to s. 5 of the Act (general purposes of the Trust). He recommended that the Board make a proposal for legislative review to the Law Reform Commission to increase penalties and enhance compliance. He held the opinion that the review of the Act was critical and that a team should be assigned to this task with a clear deadline.

The Chairman explained that the original bill had been 'watered down' for promulgation by Parliament; given this, the Act in its present form is not as stringent as initially drafted. She reminded the membership that only 13 properties had been listed since the establishment of the Trust and that on October 30, 2019, a total of 30 properties of interest had been approved by the Minister for publication in the Gazette as listed properties. The Chairman referred to the Landmarks Subcommittee which had been constituted with a mandate to recommend properties of interest for listing. She informed that there were dozens of dossiers submitted to the Trust and each one was subject to inhouse verification and, where necessary, correction and proofing before being recommended as listed sites. She acknowledged the assistance provided by Environmental Research Institute Charlotteville (ERIC) in Tobago. The Chairman held that education and outreach was key to promoting public understanding for the protection of heritage sites, particularly those which were likely to be demolished. She cited this as a fundamental function of the Trust and the Permanent Secretary of the client Ministry had given an undertaking to take forward proposals for incentives.

Member Jalaladin Khan expressed concern that many heritage buildings could be lost in a short period of time due to demolition by developers given the small fine and urged the Trust to consider the strengthening of the Act as a frontline action and questioned whether it was worth listing buildings if the Trust lacked finances and powers to enforce the Act. The matter of Memoranda of Understanding was raised and the need for striking strategic partnerships through agreements with agencies such as the Environmental Management Authority (EMA).

The Chairman informed that the Trust had a close partnership with the Town and Country Planning Division (T&CPD) which was regarded as the frontline regulatory agency for the protection, monitoring and control of heritage buildings; she also informed that the 'Guidelines for Restoration Work' had been made available to the public on the Trust website.

Member Jalaladin Khan held that the National Trust should focus on listed properties and not be saddled as the "go to" agency on matters on heritage conservation in the absence of an Archaeology Committee. He expressed the view that the Trust should instead build the capacity of the T&CPD and the Ministry of Community Development, Culture and the Arts (MCDCA) to address archaeology matters or else the Trust would spread itself too thin by becoming involved in broader issues outside its mandate.

Member Kumar Mahabir urged the Trust to make the best of its present situation in view of the upcoming general elections (due in 2020). He stated that a price could not be placed on education and urged the Trust to conduct more public education lectures. He also called for more decentralisation of Trust activities in areas such as Barrackpore and Rio Claro and for dossier training workshops in Central and South Trinidad as had been done in Tobago.

Member James Telfer expressed the view that a 5-year plan required much thought and the objectives to be achieved over the 5-year period must be evaluated in terms of financial implications.

The Chairman reiterated that the Trust had started to transition from its high dependence on State subventions and underscored the importance of acquiring heritage properties for revenue generation and forging partnerships with the State that were not purely financial in nature. Referring to the Financial Statement 2017/2018, she pointed out that the State allocation basically covered staff salaries, nonetheless, the Trust has been on a drive to monetise tours and events. Considering that to date no heritage assets had been vested in the Trust, the Chairman reiterated her call for the acquisition of properties and identification of additional sources of funding.

Member James Telfer expressed his concern that acquiring properties was merely an item for a "wish list". The Chairman informed of on-going negotiations with the State, indicating that the Trust had been invited to submit a proposal for Mille Fleurs and she clarified that this proposal would only be presented when the building was repaired. The Chairman reported that there was a concerted effort to list State-owned properties that could be potentially acquired by/vested in the Trust to boost revenue-generation and ultimately reduce dependence on State allocations.

The Chairman also raised the matter of the quasi-statutory nature of the National Trust. She highlighted that since the Trust received a State allocation, this meant that the Trust could not exercise absolute autonomy in the conduct of its mandate and was excluded from international and regional funding arrangements exclusively available to autonomous, non-statutory national trusts. She recognised that given its quasi-statutory nature, the Trust needed a champion capable of wielding influence with decision makers at the State level to promote its mandate and functions. The Chairman referred to efforts made to engage the NLCB and admitted that the National Trust often found itself at the bottom of the list of priorities for both the State and the private sector and made a case for a strong public relations initiative to engage stakeholders to invest in the Trust.

Member Jalaladin Khan addressed the floor again calling for an audit of the status of all listed buildings in accordance with s. 26 of the Act (Orders for protecting listed properties) and made specific reference to the Mayaro Post Office which he reported to be in a dilapidated condition. He also indicated that despite agreement by the membership to deal with matters arising after the presentation of Reports, he still held the view that matters arising should not have been addressed after the Reports.

The Chairman addressed these and other matters, providing the following updates:

- The Trust had followed up on the matter of the Mayaro Post Office which revealed a lease agreement with the Mayaro Historical Society (according to the records of the Director of Surveys);
- There was a need to work with the State concerning the valuation of properties of interest;
- The National Trust had no finances to hire a legal officer at this time (as provided in the organisational chart) and there had been an agreement to constitute a legal subcommittee and the Chairman called on members with legal training to volunteer their services.

With no further comments from the membership, the Chairman moved to accept that the Annual Report 2017/2018 as laid and adopted by the membership, this motion was seconded by member Marie Abdulah and was carried forward without objection.

11.0 VOTE ON SPECIAL RESOLUTIONS

The Presiding Member then invited the Secretary to address the membership concerning the vote on the Special Resolutions.

The Secretary reminded the membership that the notice and the text of the four special resolutions had been provided to the membership at least 21 days prior to the AGM and that special resolutions require a majority of not less than 75% of the votes cast by members in accordance with Special Resolution #01/2017 (Formalities for Special Resolutions).
